

GDD 07

What Makes Me, Me

Who I am is mine

The base of the gender thread, retrofitted to the mechanic-embodying standard. Children build a "this is me" collage, learn the gentle difference between body and inside-self, erase the silly rules, and rehearse respect, using the name someone gives, standing up for a friend. Seven mechanics, zero "tap the right card". Scorecard: passed.

Who I am is mine.

What Makes Me, Me is the foundation of the gender thread (UNESCO 3.1). Children assemble a "this is me" collage and meet, gently and age-appropriately, the difference between sex (the body you're born with) and gender (who you know you are inside). It carries forward g04 and g06, and adds that who you are is yours, one part of many, and deserves respect. This is the v2 retrofit: the v1 library was 80% a single tap, the most monotonous of all; the same sensitive content and India-grounding now arrive through seven play actions.

FIELD	VALUE
Node / gameld	g07 · what-makes-me-me (confirm exact id against engine-host)
Chapter / ages	Chapter 2 · ages 6-9 · light canvas · co-play friendly
Thread / topics	E · Gender & Respect · UNESCO 3.1 (sex, gender & gender identity)
Prerequisite / builds on	g06 (Body Lab) · builds on g04 (Same Same, Different)
Gating	Core · the base every later gender node stands on.
Schema / status	v2 · scorecard PASS retrofit from v1 (was 80% single-mechanic).

82

scenarios

7

mechanics

25

real-choice moves

17

myths busted

0%

binary taps

Every kind of "me".

From the Chapter 2 personas. The game gives every child language for who they are, and the habit of respecting who others are, each need mapped to a v2 mechanic.

PERSONA	WHAT THEY NEED HERE	THE MECHANIC THAT SERVES IT
Reyansh, 7 (curious)	Clear, true words for body vs inside-self.	match + sort: sex/gender explained simply.
Ananya, 8 (justice-seeker)	To see "you can't, you're a girl" as unfair.	branch: fairness; many ways to be a girl.
"Faizan"-type (teased as "girly")	To hear he's fine as he is.	role-play + branch: "no one right way"; ally.
A gender-diverse child	To feel real, named and safe.	strike-rewrite: "some feel different, and that's okay".
Mrs. Pillai / Deepak (educators)	An accurate, calm, India-grounded way in.	match + reflect: NALSA & hijra heritage.

Why this works (the evidence). By 6-9, self-concept turns multifaceted, so it's the right moment to teach "many parts, one me". Gender identity is typically stable by 6-7, and some children are gender-diverse as a normal part of development; age-appropriate honesty plus a respect habit is what the research recommends.

Seven moves, one self.

The rework's heart: instead of one repeated tap, the root concept arrives through seven actions, each one being the lesson. Mechanics rotate; the same one never runs twice in a row.

MECHANIC	THE CHILD DOES	EMBODIES	N
reflect	Notices their own parts and self (no wrong answer).	Self-concept; be-yourself.	20
strike-rewrite	Erases a gender myth, writes the truth.	Conceptual change.	17
role-play (voice)	Uses the name someone gives; says a be-yourself line.	Respect; assertion.	14
branch	Chooses in a real moment (teasing, inclusion).	Decisions; allyship.	11 sort	Sorts "who I am inside" from "what I like".	Sex vs gender vs expression.	9
match	Matches sex/gender; the India facts.	The vocabulary; "more than two".	7
build	Assembles the "this is me" collage.	Many parts, one me.	4

25 of 82 moments are branch or role-play; binary "tap the right answer": 0%. No single mechanic exceeds 24%.

The two-test, passed.

Is it fun?

Making a "this is me" collage is joyful, personal play: pick your favourites, your feelings, your family, watch your one-of-a-kind self take shape. Around it: erase a silly rule, use a new friend's name, stand up for someone, say "who I am is mine". It's about you, the most engaging subject a child has, and every screen is a different action.

Is it teaching?

Yes, the actual root of the gender thread: sex vs gender at a 6-9 level, that gender isn't what you like or wear, that there are many ways to be (with India's own third-gender heritage as the anchor), and the everyday respect habit.

The belief it moves. From "only two boxes; you can tell by looks; liking the 'wrong' things changes who you are; you must prove your gender" → "I'm made of many parts, who I am is mine to know, there are many ways to be, and everyone's 'me' deserves respect."

Same truths, new actions.

82 scenarios across six categories, India-grounded (hijra heritage; NALSA's third-gender recognition) and developmentally tuned. Every one re-encoded to a typed v2 mechanic.

CATEGORY	N	LEAD MECHANICS	COVERS
All the parts of me	12	build, reflect, match	Name, loves, feelings, family, body, who-you-are; gender is one of many.
Sex and gender (kid-level)	12	match, strike-rewrite, sort	Body you're born with vs who you know you are; only you know yourself.
Gender isn't what you like	12	strike-rewrite, sort, branch	Colour, toys, hair, clothes, dance don't decide or change it.
Many ways to be	14	strike-rewrite, match, sort	Boy, girl, neither/both; "they"; hijra heritage; third-gender law.
Respect everyone's me	16	role-play, branch, sort	Use the name given; don't tease; say sorry & retry; include everyone.
Be yourself	16	role-play, reflect, branch	No need to prove; you decide; proud of all of you.

A role-play scenario (respect in action), verbatim.

hook: "A new friend says 'my name is Aarav, I'm a boy.'" your line: "Hi Aarav! Want to play?" [best]
 "Use a different name anyway" relearn: "Call people the name they give you; it shows respect."

Full library: SwipeEd — GDD 07 What Makes Me Me — Scenario Library.json (82 records, v2 schema).

What this game erases.

MYTH (UN ERASES)	TRUTH (RE WRITES)	BASIS
There are only two kinds of people and everyone must fit.	Boy, girl, and some feel like neither or both, all real.	Gender diversity; NALSA.
You can tell someone's gender by how they look.	You can't; gender is who you know you are inside.	Gender vs expression.
Liking pink / dolls / dancing changes a boy.	What you like doesn't change who you are.	Builds on g04.
Crying makes a boy a girl.	Everyone cries; feelings aren't a gender.	Builds on g01.
There's only one right way to be a boy / a girl.	There are many ways to be either.	Gender-norm research.
Some people are "made wrong".	No one is made wrong for being who they are.	Dignity.
You must prove your gender to others.	You never have to prove who you are.	Gender norms.
India only recognises male and female.	India's law recognises a third gender.	NALSA 2014.
Respect means making people be like me.	Respect means letting people be themselves.	Respect.

The micro-loop.

1. Hook. Lensy holds up an empty frame: "let's build the one and only YOU".
2. Play. One of seven mechanics, rotated, never the same twice in a row.
3. Reveal. Each piece snaps onto the collage with a warm note.
4. UN → RE moment. On a myth, UN erases it and RE writes the truth ("only two boxes" → "many ways to be").
5. Apply. Use a friend's name, sort gender from expression, or choose the kind response.
6. Sticker. The "one of a kind" me-badge; GameDone records once.

Signature surfaces: the me-collage builder and a gentle sex-vs-gender two-card explainer. Body anatomy stays light here and is handed to g02/g06; this node owns the idea, not the biology.

Honest, kind, age-true.

- Register. Ages 6-9: warm, factual, never preachy or political; "you're wonderful, and so is everyone else".
- Age-appropriate scope. Sex vs gender at a child's level only; no medical, romantic or political content; deeper topics live later in the thread.
- India-grounded, not "imported". Many-ways-to-be is told through India's own hijra heritage and third-gender law, so it reads as ours.
- Respect is the floor. The non-negotiable take-away (use the name given, don't tease, include everyone) lands for every family.
- Self-knowledge, never pressure. "Only you know yourself" and "you don't have to prove or change" protect every child, including the majority.
- Access. Co-play prompts; audio-first; reduced-motion; offline; colour never the only signal; Indian names, faces and contexts.

v2 schema, scorecard-gated.

- gameld. what-makes-me-me — node.game === GameDone key === registry id (confirm exact id in engine-host).
- v2 mechanic-embodiment schema. Each scenario carries type + typed payload (build.pieces, strike-rewrite.myth, role-play.yourLine, branch.options, sort.items/bins/key, match.pairs, reflect.options). Reuses the shared templates from g09.
- Scorecard-gated. Passed all eight checks (7 mechanics, max 24%, 0% binary, 25 autonomy, 17 UN→RE, 10 personas, 100% completeness). Re-run score_gdd.py on any edit.
- Thread root. Establishes the vocabulary (sex, gender, respect) the whole gender thread reuses; keep terms stable.
- Generated path. Label/order/thread changes flow through the xlsx + gen-path, never hand-edited path.ts.

Ethics contracts (never traded for engagement): respect as the floor for every family; age-appropriate scope (defer medical/political/romantic); India-grounded framing; self-knowledge not pressure; protect the gender-diverse child AND the majority child; represent every kind of "me"; made-for-India.

Why this works.

- Self-concept turns multifaceted at 6–9. Children describe themselves by interests, traits and qualities and begin intense peer comparison, so "many parts, one me", built by hand, fits how they now think.
- Gender identity is usually settled, and diversity is normal. It's typically stable by 6-7; most children feel like the boy/girl they were called, while some are gender-diverse, a normal, healthy part of development. Age-appropriate honesty plus a respect habit is recommended.
- India's own "more than two". The hijra community is part of long-standing Indian history, and the Supreme Court's NALSA (2014) judgment recognised a third gender, an accurate, homegrown anchor for "many ways to be".

Citations accompany each scenario in the library JSON. Retrofit 4 of 9 (g01-08, g37) to the v2 standard; the four worst offenders (g04-07) are now done. g07 was the most monotonous (80% single-mechanic) and is now scorecard-clean.