

GDD 32 Spectrum

Dignity for all — not up for debate

The understanding-and-respect game for ages 15-18. People differ in who they are and who they love, and every single one deserves dignity, respect and safety, that part isn't up for debate. It builds calm understanding, busts harmful myths without disparaging anyone's family or beliefs, supports anyone questioning with no pressure to label, and never outs anyone. Among the most safeguarding-sensitive games in the app. Seven mechanics, 24 choice-and-voice moments, zero "tap the right card". Scorecard: passed.

Dignity for all, not up for debate.

Spectrum helps near-adults understand that people differ in their sexual orientation and their gender identity, that this diversity is a natural and longstanding part of humanity, including in India's own history, and that every person, whoever they are and whoever they love, deserves dignity, respect and safety. It is built on one non-negotiable: respect is a value, not a debate. The game is careful and respectful in equal measure, it teaches understanding and busts harmful myths without disparaging anyone's family or beliefs; it supports any young person who is questioning, with no pressure to label and complete confidentiality; and, alongside Mutual (g31), it is among the most safeguarding-sensitive games in the app, because the young people it most protects can be among the most vulnerable. New v2 build.

Respect is a value, not a debate. The game separates honest differences of belief (which it respects) from the non-negotiable floor of human dignity (which it upholds): you do not have to agree with everyone to treat everyone with dignity and keep them safe. It busts harmful myths, that orientation or identity is 'a choice', 'a phase', 'an illness', 'contagious' or 'a foreign import', without ever disparaging a young person's family or beliefs, so no one is shamed and no one is left unsafe.

Everyone, and especially the vulnerable.

From the Chapter 5 personas (15-18). It's for everyone, to understand and to be a respectful ally, and it is written with particular care for any player who is themselves questioning, who can face higher distress. It never asks, infers or reveals anything about who the player is.

PERSONA	WHAT THEY NEED HERE	THE MECHANIC THAT SERVES IT
Every teen	Calm understanding, and to bust the myths without shaming anyone.	strike-rewrite + reflect : kind correction.
Vijay, 17	To be a steady, safe ally and shut down slurs calmly.	branch + role-play : dignity in action.
Anyone questioning	No pressure to label, confidentiality, and support.	reflect + branch : being you.
The Counsellor	To route distress or family conflict to careful support.	match + branch : support & safety.

Why this works (the evidence). People vary naturally in sexual orientation (who they're attracted to) and gender identity (their own sense of their gender); this is a longstanding part of humanity across cultures and history, including India's own traditions, and neither is a choice, a phase, contagious, a foreign import, or a mental illness (WHO ICD-11 and the APA removed them from illness classifications). In India, consensual same-sex relations between adults were decriminalised in 2018, the NALSA judgment recognised transgender persons, and dignity and equality are constitutional values, so the game stands on settled ground, never contested policy.

Seven moves, led by the kind correction.

It's an understanding-and-respect game, so strike-rewrite leads (busting myths kindly), with branch turning understanding into dignified action and reflect carrying the affirming, being-you core. Mechanics rotate; the same one never runs twice in a row.

MECHANIC	THE YOUNG PERSON DOES	EMBODIES	N
reflect (affirm) signature	Internalises understanding, dignity, and 'being you' affirmations.	Acceptance.	27
branch (dignity in action)	Chooses to include, to be a safe ally, to protect privacy.	Respect as behaviour.	17
strike-rewrite	Busts a harmful myth ("it's a choice / a phase / an illness").	Conceptual change.	14
sort	Sorts fact vs myth; respectful vs disparaging; settled vs false.	The line.	10
role-play (voice)	Shuts down a slur calmly; supports a confiding friend.	Voice; allyship.	7
match	Pairs a term to its meaning; a need to its support line.	Connections.	5
spot	Spots the safe ally move, or the respectful response.	Reading the room.	4

24 of 84 moments are branch or role-play. Binary "tap the right answer": 0%.

The two-test, passed.

Is it fun?

Game feel is warm, calm and affirming, acceptance made to feel good. The emotional core is the warmth of a moment of acceptance; the myth-bust reveal that replaces fear with understanding is satisfying; and the quiet 'win' of standing up for someone's dignity feels genuinely good. It is affirming without being a parade or a clinic, showing diverse people living ordinary, dignified lives. Nothing is explicit, and no one is ever outed.

Is it teaching?

Yes: that orientation and gender identity vary naturally; respectful, accurate terms; how to recognise and reject the common myths (choice, phase, illness, contagious, foreign import); that everyone deserves dignity, respect and safety, a constitutional value in India; how to support self-understanding without pressure to label; and how to find support and stand safely against identity-based bullying. It upholds dignity firmly, while never shaming anyone.

The belief it moves. From "it's a choice / a phase / an illness; it's a foreign import; you don't owe 'those people' respect; you must label yourself" → "people simply vary, and always have; it isn't an illness; dignity is for everyone; and whoever you are, there's no rush and you're not alone."

Built, not bolted on.

What this game flips.

MYTH (UN ERASES)	TRUTH (RE WRITES)	BASIS
It's just a choice people make.	It isn't a choice; it's part of who someone naturally is.	Not a choice.
It's just a phase they'll grow out of.	For many it's a lasting part of who they are; not yours to dismiss.	Not a phase.
It's a mental illness that needs curing.	It is not a mental illness; health bodies removed it long ago.	Not an illness.
It's contagious.	It isn't; people are who they are, and understanding changes nothing.	Not contagious.
It's a foreign, Western import.	It exists across cultures and history, including India's own traditions.	Not foreign.
If you disagree with someone, you don't owe them respect.	You don't have to agree to treat everyone with dignity and keep them safe.	Dignity floor.
Being who you are is against the law in India.	Consensual same-sex relations between adults were decriminalised in 2018; dignity is a right.	Decriminalised 2018.
Bullying someone toughens them up.	Bullying causes real harm and distress; it never helps anyone.	Anti-bullying.

The micro-loop.

1. Open. Sam (young-adult) poses a question, a myth card, or a respect scenario.
2. Learn or bust. The young person learns a fact, busts a myth, or practises dignity.
3. Dignity in action. Understanding becomes behaviour, include, be a safe ally, protect privacy (branch).
4. The flip. UN erases a harmful myth; RE replaces it with understanding and the firm dignity floor.
5. Being you & support. For anyone questioning, gentle, pressure-free affirmation; Get Help and confidential support one tap away.
6. Sticker. The Spectrum badge; GameDone records once.

Signature surface: the myth-bust card that replaces fear with understanding, and the warm "being you" affirmations. It extends the self-understanding of What Makes Me Me (g7) and the myth-busting of MythBuster: Gender (g25), shares the dignity foundation of Mutual (g31) and the safe-upstander skills of Stand Up (g27).

High-stakes safeguarding, handled with care.

- Dignity floor, no shaming. Upholds respect and safety for all while never disparaging any person, family or belief.
- Never outs anyone. The game never reveals, records or infers a player's orientation or identity, and never urges disclosure.
- Careful triage for the vulnerable. Questioning youth can face higher distress; the Q&A foregrounds mental-health support and routes distress or family conflict with care.
- Non-explicit. About identity, respect and safety, never explicit content.
- Anti-bullying, POCSO-aware. Identity-based harassment is addressed; any disclosure of abuse or danger routes to safeguarding and help.
- Settled-values framing. Stands on India's constitutional values of dignity and equality, never contested policy; neither campaigns nor disparages.
- Access & privacy. Audio, offline, low-end build; nothing about a player's identity is ever inferred, recorded or stored (DPDP-aligned).

Find support (India). Feeling low or distressed: Tele-MANAS 14416. Mental-health support: KIRAN 1800-599-0019. Anyone under 18 at risk: Childline 1098. And a trusted adult or counsellor. Sharing anything about yourself is always your own choice, support never requires it.

v2 schema, scorecard-gated.

- v2 mechanic-embodiment schema. type + typed payload; strike-rewrite leads the kind myth-busting, with branch for dignity-in-action.
- Fact-checked content. The scientific consensus (not a choice/illness), the India legal position (decriminalised 2018, NALSA) and the support lines verified; flag any legal edit for re-verification.
- Never infers identity. No scenario records, infers or implies anything about the player; privacy is a safety feature, server-side.
- Scorecard-gated. Passed all eight checks (7 mechanics, top mechanic at 32%, 0% binary, 24 autonomy, 14 UN→RE, 5 personas, 100% completeness). Re-run score_gdd.py on any edit.
- Help-resource hook. Support via the shared component (trusted adult / Tele-MANAS 14416 / KIRAN / Childline 1098); identity-based abuse routes to safeguarding.
- Tracked. build_gate.py finalize advances g32 to v2 PASS only after order, read, score, audit and artifact gates pass.

Ethics contracts (never traded for engagement): dignity for all (non-negotiable); never disparage any person, family or belief; never out anyone; non-explicit; careful triage; settled-values framing; made-for-India.

Why this works.

- Understanding reduces harm. Because accurate understanding lowers fear, bullying and distress, replacing rumour with calm facts (and never shaming anyone) is the protective, evidence-based approach, misinformation is the real danger.
- A dignity floor that everyone can stand on. Since families and communities hold a range of beliefs, separating honest belief-differences from the non-negotiable floor of dignity, "you don't have to agree to keep someone safe", lets the game protect without shaming.
- Safety first for the vulnerable. Because questioning youth can face higher distress, never outing anyone, never pressuring a label, and foregrounding confidential support is what makes the game genuinely safe for those it most protects.
