

GDD 46

Real Relationships

Built, not found.

The relationship heart of College (ages 18-22). It turns flag-reading into the daily skill of building and sustaining a healthy relationship, communication, trust, conflict and repair, and the harder skill of recognising an unhealthy or controlling one and leaving it safely, without self-blame. It also covers the thing no one teaches: how to get through a breakup. Abuse-aware, even-handed, non-graphic. Seven mechanics, 30 choice-and-voice moments, zero "tap the right card". Scorecard: passed.

Good relationships are built.

Real Relationships carries the relationship thread into the day-to-day of adult partnership. It turns the flag-reading of Green Light / Red Light (g24) into building and sustaining a healthy relationship, respect, trust, equality, communication and repair, and the harder skill of recognising coercive control or abuse and leaving safely, never with self-blame. It also covers what no one teaches: surviving a breakup, with grief, no-contact and rebuilding. It is abuse-aware, even-handed across genders, and non-graphic. New v2 build, the relationship heart of College between Swipe Right? (g45) and Own Your Health (g47).

FIELD	VALUE
Node / gameld	g46 · real-relationships (confirm exact id against engine-host)
Chapter / ages	Chapter 6 · ages 18-22 · adult / steady / wellbeing-safe
Thread / topics	D · Relationships · UNESCO 1.2, 5.3, 4.1, 5.6
Prerequisite / builds on	g45 (Swipe Right?) · builds on g24, g31, g09 · on-ramp to Chapter 7
Gating	Open · adult, comprehensive, ungated
Schema / status	v2 · scorecard PASS the healthy-relationships game.

84

scenarios

7

mechanics

14

myth-flips

30

choice & voice

0%

binary taps

Love expands your world; control shrinks it. The spine of the whole node. Healthy love is built from skills, respect, trust, equality, honest communication, independence and repair after conflict, and it adds to your life. Coercive control, romanticised as jealousy, protectiveness or intensity, slowly takes your friends, freedom and confidence. Teaching the difference, and that leaving an unsafe relationship is brave and never your fault, is the most protective thing this chapter does.

Relationships, for real.

From the Chapter 6 personas (18-22). Young adults building real relationships, often under family scrutiny and a culture that romanticises control. It must teach healthy skills, name coercive control clearly, frame leaving as valid, and be even-handed and inclusive.

PERSONA	WHAT THEY NEED HERE	THE MECHANIC THAT SERVES IT
Every young adult	The daily markers of a healthy relationship, and how to fight fair.	sort + role-play : build & repair.
Rohan, 20	To recognise control, own his part, and know an exit is brave.	strike-rewrite + branch : red flags, leaving.
Zoya, 21	Relationship skills that are inclusive, and rebuilding after a breakup.	branch + reflect : breakups.
Meena, 20	To know help exists, offline, if a relationship turns unsafe.	match : routes & helplines.

Why this works (the evidence). Healthy relationships are built skills, mutual respect, trust, equality, communication, independence and repair, not luck. Gottman's research names four patterns, criticism, contempt, defensiveness and stonewalling, that predict breakdown, with contempt the most corrosive; the antidotes are 'I' statements, appreciation, taking responsibility and calming breaks. Coercive control is not love: monitoring 'for transparency', isolation and gaslighting make a person dependent and doubt their reality, and 'they're just protective' is how control gets romanticised. Leaving is valid and brave and never the target's fault; because abuse can escalate at leaving, exit-safety matters. Breakups are real, survivable grief; no-contact, healthy coping and rebuilding carry you through. Even-handed across genders; India helplines 181, 1091, 112.

Seven moves, led by reading and choosing.

It's a build-and-discern game, so branch leads (choose the healthy, safe move), with sort drawing the healthy/unhealthy line and strike-rewrite clearing the romanticised-control myths; role-play gives the words to repair, support and leave. Mechanics rotate; the same one never runs twice in a row.

MECHANIC	THE YOUNG ADULT DOES	EMBODIES	N
branch (the call) signature	Chooses the healthy, fair or safe move in a real relationship moment.	Applied judgment.	21
sort	Sorts healthy vs unhealthy; love vs control; coping vs harm.	The line.	16
strike-rewrite	Busts a romanticised-control myth ("jealousy means they love you").	Conceptual change.	14
reflect	Internalises the markers, self-worth and that leaving is valid.	Values.	13
role-play (voice)	Repairs a fight; supports a friend; reaches for help; leaves safely.	Voice; care.	9
spot	Spots the gaslighting, the coercive control, the early warning.	Reading the signs.	6
match	Pairs a wrecker to its antidote; a need to a helpline.	Connections.	5

30 of 84 moments are branch or role-play. Binary "tap the right answer": 0%.

The two-test, passed.

Is it engaging?

Game feel is recognition and relief, the satisfaction of finally having words for what you've felt: the difference between a fight and contempt, between caring and controlling, between missing someone and needing to go back. The "I'd been making excuses for that" moment lands hard, and the repair and rebuild moments feel genuinely good. Sam is a steady adult friend through the messy parts; the tone is warm, honest and never preachy, and Get Help is one tap away.

Is it teaching?

Yes: the markers of healthy versus unhealthy relationships; handling conflict constructively and repairing after it (the four wreckers and their antidotes); recognising coercive control, jealousy-as-love, isolation and gaslighting; leaving an unsafe relationship safely and without self-blame; and navigating a breakup with healthy coping and self-care, even-handed across genders.

The belief it moves. From "jealousy means they love you; they check my phone because they care; real love means losing yourself; if we fight we're doomed; leaving means I failed" → "control isn't love; monitoring is control; healthy love keeps you whole; contempt not conflict predicts breakdown; and leaving is brave, not a failure."

Built, not bolted on.

84 researched scenarios across the what-healthy → fight-right → red-flags → leaving-safely → breakups → tools arc, evidence-based and India-grounded, abuse-aware and non-graphic. Full library in the companion JSON.

CATEGORY	N	LEAD MECHANICS	COVERS
What healthy looks like	15	sort, branch, role-play	Respect, trust, equality, independence, communication.
Fight right	16	strike-rewrite, sort, role-play	Conflict, repair, the four wreckers and their antidotes.
Red flags, grown up	16	strike-rewrite, spot, sort	Coercive control, jealousy-as-love, isolation, gaslighting.
Leaving safely	14	branch, role-play, reflect	Recognising abuse; leaving with a plan; no self-blame.
Breakups	13	branch, reflect, role-play	Grief, no-contact, healthy coping, rebuilding.
Tools & help	10	match, sort, reflect	Antidotes, the simple test, routes and helplines.

The 'jealousy is love' flip + a leaving-safely branch, verbatim.

flip: "Jealousy means they really love you."
 UN -> "Jealousy means they really love you."
 RE -> "Jealousy and possessiveness are about control, not love."

branch: You've decided to leave a controlling relationship.
 best -> Make a quiet plan: tell someone, a safe place, key documents.

Full library: SwipeEd — GDD 46 Real Relationships — Scenario Library.json (84 records, v2 schema).

What this game flips.

MYTH (UN ERASES)	TRUTH (RE WRITES)	BASIS
Jealousy means they really love you.	Jealousy and possessiveness are about control, not love.	Jealousy-as-love.
They check my phone because they care.	Monitoring 'for transparency' is control; healthy transparency is voluntary.	Coercive control.
They're just protective about my friends.	Cutting you off from friends and family is isolation, not protection.	Isolation.
Real love means losing yourself in each other.	Healthy love keeps your independence, friends and identity intact.	Wholeness.
A good relationship has no conflict.	Conflict is normal; how you handle and repair it is what matters.	Conflict.
If I just love them harder, they'll stop controlling me.	You can't love someone out of controlling you; it isn't yours to fix.	Not yours to fix.
Leaving means I failed at the relationship.	Leaving an unhealthy or unsafe relationship is brave and valid.	Leaving is valid.
A breakup means something's wrong with me.	Breakups are painful but normal; they're not a verdict on your worth.	Self-worth.

The micro-loop.

1. Surface. Sam (steady adult friend) surfaces a real relationship moment, a fight, a flag, a leaving, a breakup.
2. Read & choose. The young adult chooses the healthy, fair or safe move (branch), or finds the words (role-play).
3. The flip. UN busts a romanticised-control myth; RE writes the truth.
4. Build, repair or leave. Practise repair and antidotes; recognise control; plan a safe exit; rebuild after a breakup.
5. Tools & help. Conflict and exit-safety references; any disclosure of abuse routes to help.
6. Sticker. The Real-Relationships badge; GameDone records once.

Signature surface: the love-vs-control read and the repair attempt. It carries Green Light / Red Light (g24), Mutual (g31) and Friend or Frenemy (g09), uses the Talk-It-Out tool, links Bounce (g39) and Mind & Belonging (g49) for breakup wellbeing, and is the direct on-ramp to Chapter 7's partnerships.

Abuse-aware, wellbeing-safe.

- Coercive control named clearly. Control and abuse are named plainly; leaving is framed as valid and brave, never the target's fault.
- Exit-safety handled with care. Because abuse can escalate around leaving, exit guidance (tell someone, safe place, documents, helpline) is given carefully, with help signposted.
- Breakups, wellbeing-safe. Heartbreak content promotes healthy coping (no-contact, support, routine) and routes heavy low mood to help; never glamorises numbing or self-harm; non-graphic.
- Even-handed. Anyone of any gender can be controlled or abused, or can do it; believed and supported equally.
- No victim-blaming. Control traps capable people by design; staying as long as someone did is never a personal failing.
- Disclosure routing. Any disclosure of abuse routes to support and the right helpline via the anonymous Ask-It.
- Access & privacy. Self-directed, audio, offline, low-end build; the Q&A is on-device and never identity-linked (DPDP-aligned).

Get help (India). Facing violence or control, Women Helpline 181, women-in-distress 1091, emergency 112 · heavy low mood after a breakup, Tele-MANAS 14416 · and a counsellor or trusted person to talk it through. Abuse and control are never your fault; leaving is brave, and help exists. Even-handed across genders.

v2 schema, scorecard-gated.

- gameld. real-relationships — `node.game === GameDone key === registry id` (confirm exact id in engine-host).
- v2 mechanic-embodiment schema. type + typed payload; the branch call leads, with sort drawing the healthy/unhealthy line.
- Safety is a hard requirement. Coercive-control content, exit-safety and breakup-wellbeing are flagged for gender-violence and wellbeing expert review and kept current.
- Fact-checked content. Healthy markers, Gottman's four patterns and antidotes, coercive-control and gaslighting signs, exit-safety and India routes (181, 1091, 112, Tele-MANAS 14416) verified this build.
- Scorecard-gated. Passed all eight checks (7 mechanics, top mechanic at 25%, 0% binary, 30 autonomy, 14 UN→RE, 6 personas, 100% completeness). Re-run `score_gdd.py` on any edit.
- Help-resource hook. Disclosures route via the shared "get help" component (181 / 1091 / 112 / Tele-MANAS 14416 / counsellor).
- Tracked. `build_gate.py` finalize advances g46 to v2 PASS only after order, read, score, audit and artifact gates pass.

Ethics contracts (never traded for engagement): coercive control named; leaving valid & never your fault; exit-safety with care; breakups wellbeing-safe; even-handed; no victim-blaming; disclosure routing; made-for-India.

Why this works.

- Healthy is a skill, so it's teachable. Because respect, trust, communication and repair are skills rather than luck, naming and practising them, including the four conflict-wreckers and their antidotes, genuinely improves relationships.
- Naming control breaks its power. Since coercive control works by being romanticised as love and by isolating its target, teaching the love-versus-control line, gaslighting and the 'expands or shrinks' test is real protection.
- Leaving and healing need support, not shame. Because leaving can be dangerous and breakups are real grief, framing leaving as brave and never the target's fault, with exit-safety and wellbeing-safe coping, is both the kindest and the safest approach.

Sources: UNESCO ITGSE Key Concept 1 (relationships) and 4 (recognising abuse); Gottman's Four Horsemen (criticism, contempt, defensiveness, stonewalling, and their antidotes; contempt the strongest predictor); One Love Foundation healthy-versus-unhealthy relationship signs; coercive-control and gaslighting research; survivor-safety practice on leaving and exit-safety; India Women Helpline 181, women-in-distress 1091, emergency 112, and Tele-MANAS 14416. Even-handed across genders; abuse-aware, wellbeing-safe and non-graphic. Citations accompany each scenario in the library JSON. 46 games now v2. Next by order: Own Your Health (g47).