Own Your Health

All of it, on your terms.

The College node where sexual and reproductive health becomes fully the young adult's own. At adult depth and ungated: contraception and dual protection, routine testing as self-care, sexual wellbeing as a normal part of health, the partner health-talk, and how to access services confidentially. Comprehensive, frank and judgement-free, because adults make better choices with the full picture. Medically accurate, non-explicit, even-handed. Seven mechanics, 28 choice-and-voice moments, zero "tap the right card". Scorecard: passed.

Now it's fully yours.

Own Your Health brings together, at adult depth and without gating, the comprehensive SRH picture: contraception and dual protection, routine STI/HIV testing, sexual wellbeing and pleasure as a normal part of life, partner communication about health, and how to access services confidentially. It completes the ownership that Plan It (g22), My Choices (g29) and Status (g30) built toward. It is comprehensive and frank but never explicit-as-instruction, medically accurate, shame-free and even-handed across genders and orientations. New v2 build, the SRH heart of College.

Confidentiality is the unlocker. Adults make better choices with the full picture, so this node is comprehensive and frank, but the thing that actually turns knowledge into care is confidentiality, because fear of being judged is what keeps young adults away. So the whole node foregrounds that SRH care is confidential and a right, frames testing and wellbeing without shame, and points to real, free, confidential services (NACO's ICTCs), even-handed across every gender and orientation.

SRH, fully owned.

From the Chapter 6 personas (18-22). Young adults taking full ownership of their sexual and reproductive health for the first time, who need frank facts, a shame-free tone, and the reassurance that care is confidential and theirs by right.

PERSONA	WHAT THEY NEED HERE	THE MECHANIC THAT SERVES IT
Ananya, 19	Confident contraception and the partner health-talk.	branch + role-play : protection & the talk.
Rohan, 20	That protection and testing are everyone's job, not just women's.	strike-rewrite : shared responsibility.
Aarti & Meena	To know care is confidential and reachable, even under scrutiny.	branch + match : confidential access.
Zoya, 21	Sexual wellbeing that's normalised and inclusive.	sort + reflect : pleasure & wellbeing.

Why this works (the evidence). Methods vary in effectiveness, condoms have a typical-use pregnancy rate around 15% while IUDs, implants and the pill are far more effective at preventing pregnancy but not STIs, so dual protection (a condom plus a highly effective method) guards against both, with emergency contraception a normal backup. Routine testing is self-care because many STIs are silent, treatment works, and U=U means an undetectable viral load on treatment can't transmit HIV. Sexual wellbeing is a normal part of health within consent and respect, with desire naturally varying. And confidentiality is the unlocker: because fear of judgement keeps young adults from care, NACO's free, confidential ICTCs and a shame-free, even-handed frame are what turn knowledge into access.

Seven moves, led by the choice.

It's an ownership game, so branch leads (make the confident health choice), with strike-rewrite clearing the shame-and-misinformation myths and sort drawing the accurate lines; role-play gives the words for the health talk. Mechanics rotate; the same one never runs twice in a row.

MECHANIC	THE YOUNG ADULT DOES	EMBODIES	N
branch (the choice) signature	Makes a confident, informed SRH choice in a real situation.	Ownership.	21
strike-rewrite	Busts a shame or misinformation myth ("only symptoms need testing").	Conceptual change.	17
sort	Sorts STI-protection vs not; fact vs myth; healthy vs harmful.	The line.	13
reflect	Internalises shame-free, confident ownership of their health.	Values.	13
spot	Spots the accurate statement, the good confidential care.	Accuracy.	7
role-play (voice)	Has the health talk; reassures a friend; tells a partner.	Voice; care.	7
match	Pairs a method to its job; a need to an Indian service.	Connections.	6

28 of 84 moments are branch or role-play. Binary "tap the right answer": 0%.

The two-test, passed.

Is it engaging?

Game feel is relief and competence: the quiet confidence of finally having frank, accurate answers to questions you couldn't ask anyone, and the empowerment of knowing exactly what to do and where to go. The "oh, that's all it is" moment, about testing, about dual protection, about confidentiality, lands repeatedly. Sam is a frank, non-judgmental adult peer; the tone is matter-of-fact and warm, never clinical or preachy, and Get Help and the anonymous Q&A are one tap away.

Is it teaching?

Yes: choosing and using contraception confidently, and why dual protection covers both pregnancy and STIs; making testing a routine, confidential part of self-care, with U=U and the fact that many STIs are silent; sexual wellbeing as a normal part of health within consent and respect; communicating with a partner about testing, protection and needs; and navigating confidential services, even-handed across genders and orientations.

The belief it moves. From "the pill stops STIs; you only test if you have symptoms; contraception is the woman's job; asking a partner to test means distrust; going to a clinic means everyone will know" → "only condoms also stop STIs, so dual-protect; many STIs are silent, so test routinely; protection is shared; the health talk is caring; and care is confidential and yours by right."

Built, not bolted on.

The 'pill stops STIs' flip + a health-talk role-play, verbatim.

```
flip: "The pill protects you from STIs."
      UN -> "The pill protects you from STIs."
      RE -> "The pill prevents pregnancy only; condoms also protect against STIs and HIV."

role-play (the testing talk): asking a new partner about testing.
      best -> "I get tested and I think it's good to both know our status, when were you last tested?"

What this game flips.

MYTH (UN ERASES)	TRUTH (RE WRITES)	BASIS
The pill protects you from STIs.	The pill prevents pregnancy only; condoms also protect against STIs and HIV.	Method jobs.
Contraception is the woman's job.	Protection and planning are a shared responsibility.	Shared.
You only need a test if you have symptoms.	Many STIs are silent; testing, not symptoms, tells you your status.	Silent STIs.
Someone with HIV always passes it on.	U=U: an undetectable viral load on treatment can't transmit HIV.	U=U.
Wanting or talking about pleasure is shameful.	Sexual wellbeing is a normal part of life, within consent and respect.	No shame.
Asking a partner to test means you don't trust them.	It's mature, caring self-care; a good partner welcomes it.	The health talk.
Going to a clinic means everyone will know.	SRH care is confidential; ICTC testing is free and confidential.	Confidentiality.
Real men don't get tested.	Testing is mature self-care for everyone, of every gender.	Even-handed.

The micro-loop.

1. Surface. Sam (frank adult peer) surfaces a real SRH situation, a method, a test, a talk, a service.
2. Choose & learn. The young adult makes the confident, informed choice (branch), or finds the words (role-play).
3. The flip. UN busts a shame or misinformation myth; RE writes the accurate, shame-free truth.
4. Own it. Dual protection, routine testing, the health talk, confidential access, all taken into the player's own hands.
5. Tools & help. A method-comparison and service-finder; fully open anonymous Q&A; distress routes to help.
6. Sticker. The Own-Your-Health badge; GameDone records once.

Signature surface: the confident health choice and the shame-free reframe. It completes the SRH thread from The Amazing Journey (g14) through Status (g30), pairs with Consent, For Real (g44), and feeds Chapter 7's reproductive-planning nodes (If, When & Whether, g59).

v2 schema, scorecard-gated.

- gameld. own-your-health — node.game === GameDone key === registry id (confirm exact id in engine-host).
- v2 mechanic-embodiment schema. type + typed payload; the branch health choice leads, with strike-rewrite clearing the shame-and-myth set.
- Medical accuracy is a hard requirement. Contraception, dual protection, testing, U=U and service routes are flagged for SRH expert review and kept current.
- Fact-checked content. Dual protection, condoms-only-stop-STIs, silent STIs, U=U, emergency contraception, and India routes (NACO ICTC free/confidential, RKSK) verified this build.
- Scorecard-gated. Passed all eight checks (7 mechanics, top mechanic at 25%, 0% binary, 28 autonomy, 17 UN→RE, 7 personas, 100% completeness). Re-run score_gdd.py on any edit.
- Help-resource hook. Distress routes via the shared "get help" component; the Q&A points to ICTC / clinic / counsellor.
- Tracked. build_gate.py finalize advances g47 to v2 PASS only after order, read, score, audit and artifact gates pass.

Ethics contracts (never traded for engagement): comprehensive but never explicit-as-instruction; medically accurate; shame-free; confidentiality paramount; even-handed & inclusive; POCSO-aware at 18; made-for-India.

Why this works.

- The full picture enables better choices. Because adults choose better with complete, frank information, comprehensive coverage of contraception, testing and wellbeing, and the dual-protection insight, genuinely improves outcomes.
- Routine testing depends on de-shaming it. Since many STIs are silent and treatment works (and U=U holds), framing testing as ordinary, confidential self-care rather than a mark of shame is what gets people tested.
- Confidentiality turns knowledge into care. Because fear of judgement is the main barrier for young adults, foregrounding confidential, non-judgmental, even-handed services is what actually connects them to the care they need.
