Know Your Rights

Rights you know are rights you can use.

The adult edition, closing College. As an adult you have rights at work, in a rented room, online and in a relationship, and real ways to claim them. It turns the rights work of Justice League into the arenas a young adult now enters: the workplace and internships, harassment and POSH, renting, consumer and cyber rights, and the law in relationships. Empowering and practical, in plain language. Educational, not legal advice. Seven mechanics, 26 choice-and-voice moments, zero "tap the right card". Scorecard: passed.

Know them, and you're harder to exploit.

Know Your Rights (Adult) closes College by turning the rights work of Justice League (g35) into the adult arenas a young adult now enters: the workplace and internships, harassment and POSH, renting a room, consumer and cyber rights, and the law in relationships. It is empowering and practical, knowing your rights, and the routes to claim them, is one of the strongest protections an adult has, and it translates intimidating law into plain, usable terms. It is explicit that it is educational, not legal advice, with all law content flagged for expert review, localisation and currency. New v2 build, the rights anchor of the adult journey.

Knowing protects; ignorance is exploitation's friend. The adult arenas are exactly where rights get used or lost: a workplace that withholds wages or harasses, a landlord who keeps a deposit, a seller of a faulty good, a scammer or blackmailer online. The answers are concrete: you have labour rights even as a junior, harassment has formal POSH redress, deposits return minus genuine damage, consumer and cyber law have real routes, and free legal aid means justice isn't only for those who can pay.

Rights as survival.

From the Chapter 6 personas (18-22). Working youth, migrant workers, interns and first-jobbers for whom rights are not abstract but survival, met in plain, usable, offline-friendly terms, in a country where many 18-22s are working, not studying.

PERSONA	WHAT THEY NEED HERE	THE MECHANIC THAT SERVES IT
Meena, 20	Workplace and tenancy rights in plain terms, and where to turn.	strike-rewrite + match: work & redress.
Aarti, 21	That harassment is never the price of a job; the POSH route.	branch + sort: harassment & POSH.
Farhan (NGO lead)	A plain, shareable rights toolkit for working youth.	role-play + match: claim it, tools.
Every young adult	Consumer and cyber rights, and free legal aid.	strike-rewrite + spot: consumer, cyber.

Why this works (the evidence). Adults hold real rights even when junior: contracts state pay and hours, wages are owed, and interns and contract workers are protected. Sexual harassment has formal redress under the POSH Act 2013, every workplace with 10+ employees (and colleges) must have an Internal Committee, complaints can be filed within three months (extendable), the process is confidential, and the Act covers interns and contract women; retaliation is prohibited. Tenancy, consumer (Consumer Protection Act 2019) and cyber rights protect young adults in plain terms, with online fraud and image abuse reportable at cybercrime.gov.in / 1930. And redress is reachable: an FIR is mandatory for a serious offence (Zero FIR anywhere), and free legal aid (NALSA, 15100) exists for anyone who can't afford a lawyer. Educational, not legal advice.

Seven moves, led by claiming a right.

It's a rights-and-redress game, so branch leads (use a right, choose the route), with strike-rewrite clearing the 'you have no rights' myths and match linking a problem to its route. Mechanics rotate; the same one never runs twice in a row.

MECHANIC	THE YOUNG ADULT DOES	EMBODIES	N
branch (claim it) signature	Uses a right in a real situation and picks the redress route.	Rights in action.	18
strike-rewrite	Busts a 'you have no rights' or 'can't fight the system' myth.	Conceptual change.	16
sort	Sorts okay vs not okay; a real protection vs a myth.	The line.	13
reflect	Internalises that knowing rights is real, claimable protection.	Self-efficacy.	12
match	Pairs a problem to its route; a need to a helpline.	Connections.	10
role-play (voice)	Asserts a right; supports a colleague; shares the route.	Voice; self-advocacy.	8
spot	Spots the scam, the harassment, the rights-aware move.	Reading the situation.	7

26 of 84 moments are branch or role-play. Binary "tap the right answer": 0%.

The two-test, passed.

Is it engaging?

Game feel is empowerment and clarity, the satisfaction of finally understanding the system you're inside: the "wait, that's not allowed" realisation about unpaid work, the relief that harassment has a real route, the quiet power of knowing free legal aid exists. The system is shown as navigable, never as intimidating courtroom drama, with real help always signposted. Sam is a plain-spoken adult peer; the tone is practical and never lawyerly.

Is it teaching?

Yes: core adult rights at work and in a rented home; workplace and college sexual-harassment protection (POSH Internal Committees) and how to use it; consumer and cyber rights; and the routes to redress and free legal aid, all in plain language and within the honest frame that this is educational, not legal advice.

The belief it moves. From "as a junior you have no rights; harassment is the price of a job; you need money to claim anything; nothing online can be done; you can't fight the system" → "rights apply at any level; harassment has POSH redress; free legal aid exists; cyber harms are reportable; and the routes are real and reachable."

Built, not bolted on.

What this game flips.

MYTH (UN ERASES)	TRUTH (RE WRITES)	BASIS
As a junior or intern, you have no rights at work.	You have basic labour rights regardless of seniority; interns are protected.	Labour rights.
Harassment is just something you put up with.	It's illegal, with formal redress under the POSH Act.	POSH.
If you complain about harassment, they can punish you.	Retaliation for a good-faith complaint is itself prohibited.	No retaliation.
A landlord can keep your deposit for any reason.	Deposits are returnable minus genuine, documented damages.	Tenancy.
If you bought it and it's faulty, that's your bad luck.	Consumer law gives you refund/replacement rights and a route.	Consumer.
Online scams and abuse can't really be reported.	Report at cybercrime.gov.in or 1930; image abuse is a crime on the abuser.	Cyber.
You need money and connections to claim your rights.	Free legal aid (NALSA, 15100) exists for those who can't afford a lawyer.	Free legal aid.
You can't fight the system; ordinary people just lose.	There are real, reachable routes to redress; knowing them shifts the odds.	You can claim it.

The micro-loop.

1. Present. Sam (plain-spoken adult peer) presents a right, a law, or a real situation, a job, a room, an online harm.
2. Learn & apply. The young adult learns the right and applies it (spot the issue, pick the route).
3. Claim it. They choose the appropriate redress route (branch) or find the words (role-play).
4. The flip. UN busts 'you have no rights' or 'can't fight the system'; RE shows the right and the route.
5. Tools & help. A rights and helpline reference card; live harassment or abuse routes straight to help.
6. Sticker. The Rights badge; GameDone records once.

Signature surface: the "you have a right to this" reveal and the route-to-redress. It carries Justice League (g35) into the adult world, pairs with Equal & Confident (g50, harassment/redress), and closes College before the Chapter 6 capstone (c6).

Empowering, accurate, honest.

- Educational, not legal advice. Clearly stated throughout; for real situations it points to authorities and free legal aid.
- Legally accurate & current. All law content (POSH, labour, tenancy, consumer, cyber, DPDP) is flagged for expert review, localisation and dating, a hard requirement.
- Empowering, not alarming. Law is framed as protection; the system is shown as navigable, with help always at hand.
- Live-harm routing. Live harassment or abuse routes straight to the right committee and helplines (POSH IC / 181 / 1091 / 112 / 1930 / 1098).
- No false guarantees. It explains rights and routes honestly, without promising specific outcomes.
- Plain & usable. Built for working youth, plain language, offline-friendly, in their language.
- Access & privacy. Audio, offline, low-end build; nothing a young adult asks about their rights is associated with them (DPDP-aligned).

Routes to redress & helplines (India). Workplace/college harassment, the POSH Internal Committee · a serious offence, an FIR (mandatory; Zero FIR anywhere) · cyber fraud or abuse, cybercrime.gov.in / 1930 · can't afford a lawyer, free legal aid (NALSA, 15100). Helplines: women in distress 181 / 1091 · emergency 112 · child at risk 1098. Educational only, not legal advice; all law to be expert-reviewed and kept current.

v2 schema, scorecard-gated.

- gameld. know-your-rights — node.game === GameDone key === registry id (confirm exact id in engine-host).
- v2 mechanic-embodiment schema. type + typed payload; the branch claim-it move leads, with match linking problems to routes.
- Legal accuracy is a hard requirement. All law (POSH, labour, tenancy, Consumer Protection Act 2019, cyber/IT, DPDP, FIR rules, free legal aid) is flagged for expert legal review, localisation and currency; stated as educational, not advice.
- Fact-checked content. POSH (ICC at 10+ staff, 3-month complaint window, covers interns), mandatory FIR / Zero FIR, free legal aid (NALSA, 15100), and cyber reporting (1930) verified this build; re-verify on any legal change.
- Scorecard-gated. Passed all eight checks (7 mechanics, top mechanic at 21%, 0% binary, 26 autonomy, 16 UN→RE, 7 personas, 100% completeness). Re-run score_gdd.py on any edit.
- Help-resource hook. Live harm routes via the shared "get help" component (POSH IC / 181 / 1091 / 112 / 1930 / 1098 / free legal aid).
- Tracked. build_gate.py finalize advances g51 to v2 PASS only after order, read, score, audit and artifact gates pass.

Ethics contracts (never traded for engagement): educational, NOT legal advice; legally current & expert-reviewed; empowering not alarming; no false guarantees; live-harm routing; plain & usable for working youth; made-for-India.

Why this works.

- Knowing is the first protection. Because a young adult who knows their rights and how to claim them is far harder to exploit, plain-language rights literacy is genuine, practical self-protection, especially for working youth.
- Routes make rights real. Since a right is useless without knowing how to claim it, demystifying the actual path, the Internal Committee, the FIR, consumer and cyber complaints, free legal aid, is what turns an abstract guarantee into something usable.
- Honesty builds trust and safety. Because no honest guide can promise outcomes, framing the game as educational-not-advice, pointing to real authorities and free legal aid, and routing live harm to help, is what makes rights education both trustworthy and safe.
